Anti-Horse Thief Men Convene at Independence to Formulate a Few Much-Needed Laws.

AFTER AUTOMOBILE THIEVES

Suggest Law to Permit Confiscation of All Stolen Cars; Proceeds of Sale for Good Roads.

JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 13.—The A. H. T. A. members of Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Arkansas are holding a meeting at Independence, Kan., on Tuesday, October 14, for the purpose of discussing needed legislation and the best method of following the program outlined at the national convention recently.

The chief topic for discussion will be how to stamp out stealing of automobiles and it is certain that some new ideas will be suggested and worked out in addition to those already promoted by the association. The plan has been suggested by some of the members of having the state license department inspect cars with the power to confiscate any stolen cars found. In case the owner is not located in a reasonable length of time the car would be sold and the proceeds put into the good roads fund.

Any member of the association is invited to be present and take part in financial obligation being assumed other than that of paying his own expenses.

SHAWNEE AN OKMULGEE WILL GET GUARD UNITS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 13.—Providing the recruiting campaign in those cities, now in progress, are successful, and there is every reason to believe that they will be, Shawnee will get the nearest or field hospital company and Okmulgee one of the batteries of artillery provided for in the program of expansion of the national guard of Oklahoma, according to an announcement yesterday by Brig.-Gen. Charles F. Barrett, adjutant general. The formation of the field hospital company at Shawnee and the artillery battery at Okmulgee has been going forward in a satisfactory manner and General Barrett fully expects that these two units will be allotted to the cities named.

ASK MEXICANS TO STATION TROOPS TO PROTECT U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The American embassy at Mexico City has been instructed by the state department to request that a garrison of not less than 400 Mexican regulars be stationed permanently at Mapimi in the state of Durango, for the protection of American citizens against possible raids by Villistas. This announcement was made by Secretary Lansing this afternoon.

MY HUSBAND AND I Jane Phelps

CHAPTER CLXII The Picture.

All the next day I thought of that picture I had seen at Mabel Horton's and wondered just how I should approach the subject to Clifford. I did not intend to provoke a quarrel; I had no desire to do so. But I wanted Clifford to know I had seen the picture he so evidently had taken purposely for Mrs. Horton, and I also wanted him to realize that I knew where he was the night I came home, what engagement it was he could not break.

He himself gave me an opening. "That's a fine picture of Levering," he remarked to Elsie, as she passed a photo around the table to him. It had come on the morning mail.

"Isn't it?" she queried, blushing, then rose from the table to answer a call from Edith who had appropriated her young aunt.

"May I see it?" I asked, and Clifford passed it to me.

"It's good," I said. Then added, "but most pictures of men ARE good. That is a wonderfully fine one of you Mabel Horton has. I don't wonder she puts it where everyone can see it."

Clifford is Annoyed.

"Is Elsie going to marry Levering?" he asked, ignoring my little speech.

I laughed.

"Perhaps—but did you hear what I said about your own picture? Most men would be flattered to have a photograph put on exhibition—especially in a charming widow's home."

"Well, I'm not! I told Mabel to keep it out of sight, and—"

"But why keep it out of sight? If it was all right to give it to her, it surely is all right to exhibit it. She seemed very proud of it; especially after I told her we had none, and you must have had it done purposely for her."

"Well, what of it? Suppose I did," she gave me no peace until I said for it. The only picture she had of me was 15 years old.

"Oh, don't get excited," I said calmly, the angrier he became, the more quiet I felt. "Of course she wanted a more recent picture; though for why I can't conceive when she has the original to look at most of the time. By the way she told me you were there the night we were so frightened; the night I came home you know."

"She told you I was there?"

"She admitted it, when I told her that I wouldn't allow you to break your engagement with her."

Mildred Holds Her Own.

Clifford looked at me in astonishment. One could imagine he was seeing me for the first time. He was angry, the tell-tale veins in his forehead stood out like whipcords, but even so he was more surprised at me, at what I had done, than angry.

"What's come over you? D— you women anyway!"

"I wouldn't swear about it," I said mildly. "It isn't worth getting excited about."

"I'd like to know what you mean, Mildred! why did you go to Mabel's and make a show of yourself? A jealous woman is a fool!"

"Yes, I agree with you. A jealous woman is a fool. But as I am not jealous that cannot apply to me."

I lied, and knew I lied. In spite of the knowledge that I loved Leonard Brooke, that I was considering leaving Clifford, I was jealous; jealous of my rights as a wife so long as I was with him.

"Well, it's a good thing you're not," he snapped while with anger. "I give you some cause, so you wouldn't go around making a fool of yourself and me too! pretending you KNEW things just to get her to admit them."

"You're clever in me, don't you think?" I asked, as he slammed his HENRYETTA, Oct. 13.—Chief makers, Jake sellers and bootleggers are being put on notice by the Henryetta city court that their illegal acts will in the future prove expensive business. They need expect no hope through a slip of evidence in the superior court, as heretofore. Rose Gardner, who has in the past taken her convictions lightly, and who now has an appeal pending in the superior court, was fined $100 in a new case by the mayor, and is also cited in another case for unlawful possession.

FREELING TO WASHINGTON FOR RED RIVER HEARING

Special to The World.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 13.—S. P. Freeling, attorney general, expects to leave tomorrow night for Washington to appear in the United States supreme court in cases in which the state of Oklahoma is interested. One of the important features of the mission to Washington will be the filing of the state's case in the Red River boundary litigation. Oklahoma, the state of Texas and the federal government apparently have three different theories as to the ownership of the oil bearing area in the bed of Red river. Oklahoma's claim is that the boundary between this state and Texas is the south bank of the river and Texas claims the north bank as its line.

Backache only a Symptom

"It Seems as Though my Back Would Break."

This is a common expression among women, yet they toil on day after day heedless of the significance of this distressing symptom.

Backache is often a warning of some inward trouble that requires attention, and which unless relieved will sooner or later declare itself in more serious ailments.

If it is caused by female derangement Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is what you need. It quickly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women.

For more than thirty years this good old fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring American women to health.

The Splendid Recovery of Mrs. Coventry

Newark, N. J.—"The doctor said I had organic trouble and treated me for several weeks. At times I could not walk at all and I suffered with my back and legs so I often had to stay in bed. I suffered off and on for eight years. Finally I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was a good medicine, and I tried it with splendid effect. I can now do my housework and my washing. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound and Blood Medicine and three of my friends are taking it to their advantage. You may use my name for a testimonial."—Mrs. THERESA COVENTRY, 75 Burnett St., Newark, N. J.

Mrs. Hunt tells how it helped her.

Detroit, Mich.—"I was in a general run-down condition, was very nervous and tired, had backache and other troubles. I suffered for several years, was not able to work at times and tried doctor's medicine with no results. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised, and after taking it a short time I was much better. I am still taking it myself and giving it to my daughter, and am glad to recommend Vegetable Compound at any time."—Mrs. M. E. Hunt, 1711 Davison Ave.
